Logos should be sent directly to Ryan Watters at rwatters@aap.org. Please send design files only (.ai, .eps, .svg). If you don't have a logo, a text version of your site Title will show across the top. This actually looks much nicer on some mobile devices.

Special Pages are Article Pages that you REALLY want to feature; however, this section is optional

Secondary Landing Page Title

The Title of the secondary page will be the same as that on the left rail. You should have already filled these out in the blank Primary Landing Page.

This order will reflect the same order of each of the boxes in the center column of the page. Please let us know the order you'd like for your content.

<<< Each of these rollups represents an article page. By default, we will use the description you included in the front matter for each of your pages if you don't provide a separate description.

The "Flyout (Article Page)"s on the left will reflect the same order of each of these secondary rollups. Please tell us the order you'd like for these pages to the left.

However, if you want one of these to link to a PDF or another site,
